

Enjoying My Work!

Pray BFF #328

June 29, 2019

Dear Prayer Partners,

An interesting conversation took place among a group of preachers. Each rated their love for preaching/teaching. I stated that I loved to preach and teach. Later on, as I reflected more, though, I thought that I might rate preaching as only a 7 or 8 on a scale of 10. I get more excited preparing for the message, as I study through reflective writing, watching how God feeds my mind with so many enriching thoughts!

I thought back to my weekly schedule. I do not preach as much as before (I make up for that on my STM speaking trips!), but spend much time devoted to His Word, writing to foster revival among God's people and strengthen them to live out godly lives. In the past weeks, I have written numerous articles (see some of them below or go to the website). I love opportunities to communicate God's Word to others, though I also enjoy time spent using technology and upgrading the new site.

Praise

- I have formed some STM (mission) plans. One leg of the September trip will be to the Philippines and considering the other to be in India.

- Thank the Lord for His grace to be able to add many new articles to our new website (www.bffbible.org)! Over 100 pages have already been posted.
- I have completed editing and uploading the Swahili videos (to the old website as our language section is not yet up and running on the new).
- Some health issues have been better for Linda.
- Two of our girls have recently received excellent reviews at their jobs!

Pray

- Wisdom to know how to incorporate literally thousands of digital resources into the structure of the new web site.
- I hope to keep working on a book that I began a couple of years ago.
- Paul preaches tomorrow, June 30th and again on July 21st.
- Meanwhile, many more articles are in various stages of completion.
